UPPA makes every effort to protect the personal information of users of its website and the associated websites of its components, in accordance with European and French regulations.

This Cookie Management Policy is intended to inform users of the UPPA website and the websites associated with its components of the conditions and purposes of use of cookies that may be present on www.univ-pau.fr.

In order to adapt the site to the needs of its visitors, we measure the number of visits, the number of pages viewed and the activity of visitors on the site and the frequency with which they return.

What is a cookie?

A cookie is a text file placed on your computer/tablet/mobile phone when you visit a website. It enables the site to remember your actions and preferences (user name, language, font size and other display settings) for a given period of time, so that you do not have to re-enter this information each time you visit the site or navigate from one page to another. It is also used to collect information about your browsing habits and to offer services tailored to your device (computer, tablet, mobile).

These cookies are managed by the browser software (Mozilla Firefox, Google Chrome, Safari, Internet Explorer, to name but a few). Under no circumstances are they likely to damage your device.

What do we do with cookies?
